Walter was a third round draft choice by Pittsburgh in 1975 and the Chiefs were lucky to claim him off the waivers that same year. In his debut as a Chiefs' player against the Denver Broncos, he caught a 69-yard touchdown pass from Mike Livingston. During his second year as a member of the Chiefs, Walter was awarded the Mack Lee Hill Award by his teammates. He went on to have a great career with over 160 receptions, a 14.9 yard average gain and led the team in receiving in 1977.

While in college, Walter played two years for the Maryland Terrapins as both a tight end and a wide receiver. He finished his collegiate career as the third leading receiver in school history, with 61 catches for 1,036 yards (a 17.0 yard average) and nine touchdowns.

Walter was recently elected vice president of Commerce Bank's Investment Group and is honored for his involvement with numerous charitable ventures. Walter served as president of the Ambassadors from 1989 - 1998.
